Threats Fail to Scare Wrestlers Before Match

Bold Statements from Challengers Herald Firemen's Show April 5

Interest in professional wrestling spurted to a new high in Lake county this week as indicated by unusual interest in the anticipated visit of the "Angel" to Waukegan Friday night, and the brisk demand for tickets to the Firemen's big wrestling and boxing show to be held April 5 in the Antioch High School gym.

The double main event brings together Jim McMillen against Gus Sonnenberg and Ruffy Silverstein versus Gorilla Grubmeier. This double feature of two one hour matches will be supported by a 30 minute encounter between Olaf Olsen and Hans Schnable. There will also be four amateur boxing bouts between the winners of the tournament, now going on at the high school, and suitable opponents from Grant or Libertyville.

Battle of Main Street

In the event that neither one becomes frightened at the threats going back and forth, there will be a special bout between two local boys for the championship of Main street.

Bill Murphy beat Chet Kilpatrick to a challenge issued by Carl Pachay and these two boys will settle the thing in a ten minute wrestling match.

Both boys have used up enough wind already to have wrestled an hour or so, and the statements continue to be handed out. Murphy became irked this week when he heard that Pachay had had his picture taken for the Waukegan papers.

"It's a good thing he is having a picture made now," said Murphy. "He'll be able to tell what he looked like before he took in too much territory. After he has been in my hook scissors for five minutes he can double for the Hunch Back of Notre Dame." Pachay doesn't seem to be worried. "I'll do my performing in the ring," he said when asked today how he felt about the match. "I'm saving my wind for the bout, but you can tell Murphy for me that if he has any false teeth he better leave them in the dressing room, because when I put on that headlock of mine, anything that's loose in his head is liable to pop out, and that don't exclude brains."

An so the battle of Main street rages. All in all it should be a great night on April 5.

Sequoit Aces Down Millburn Independent Team

Visitors' Game Fight Fails to Prevent Score of 60-23

The Sequoit Aces, composed of Antioch high school students and part of this year's "varsity," conquered the Millburn independent basketball team 60-23 Tuesday night at the Allendale gym in Lake Villa.

From the start it appeared that the Aces had the superior team, although the Millburn boys put up a game fight. With speed and excellent basket shooting the Sequoits soon piled up an 8 to 24 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

The last half featured the Aces scoring at will, while holding Millburn to six points.

Tonight (Thursday) the Aces will meet the Lake Villa "seconds" in the first game of a twin bill. So far this year the Aces are undefeated, winning six straight games.

Civic Club Nominating Committee Announced

A nominating committee to present a slate of officers for the election meeting was appointed at a dinner meeting of the Antioch Men's Civic club Monday evening in the Antioch restaurant.

The committee includes George White, Eugene Hawkins and Dr. G. W. Jensen.

Dr. Jensen was also the speaker for the evening, speaking of ways in which the veterinarian can aid community health through the discovery, treatment and prevention of diseases of animals.

Maurice Pickus and Willis Wood were accepted into the club as new members.

Thirty-two were present.

Mrs. Irving Elms entertained the members of her bridge club at her home on Orchard street Friday afternoon.

Elementary and rural school teachers of the Antioch and Lake Villa areas will hold a dinner meeting next Tuesday at the Channel Lake school. Dr. Louise F. Davis of the National College of Education in Evanston, a well known psychologist, is to be the speaker.

A representative from the teachers of this area to the district and state functions of the Illinois Educational association will be elected at the meeting, which is being called by R. E. Clabaugh.

W. C. Petty, Lake county superintendent of schools, will be present.

The dinner is to be served by the Channel Lake Community club, under the charge of Mrs. Barnstable and Mrs. Kufalk.

Mercury Test Car Due Here Monday

Antioch One of 63 Cities Visited in 2000 Mile Driving Test

One of the most significant test runs in modern automotive history will arrive here on Monday, March 25, as part of an itinerary which will include sixty-three cities in three states and will necessitate more than 2,000 miles of driving under strict test conditions.

Such was the substance of a statement made here this week by W. J. Young, district Mercury supervisor Ford Motor Company, following a conference with W. A. Rosing, local automobile dealer. The test will consist of an economy run and will be made in a 1940 Mercury automobile with stock equipment.

The purpose of the trip, according to Rosing, is to provide a factual demonstration of recent developments in automotive engineering. Speeds of 15 to 20 miles per hour once were considered the most economical, but the economy run will attempt to prove that modern automotive equipment functions best at a much higher rate. In the case of the Mercury, he stated, laboratory findings indicate that its most efficient performance is given at approximately forty-five miles per hour.

Arrangements are being made for a suitable reception of the official car when it arrives here. A special test automobile with a visible gasoline reservoir will be used for demonstration purposes. The reservoir holds exactly one-tenth gallon of gasoline and local persons will be given an opportunity to compete for the best local mileage record under test conditions. Similar demonstrators will be used in each city visited by the economy run, which started in Hammond, Indiana, on Mar. 1, and will end in Chicago on April 2. The official car will be driven by Chas. Fawcett, veteran Ford employee and one time professor of agriculture in Wisconsin.

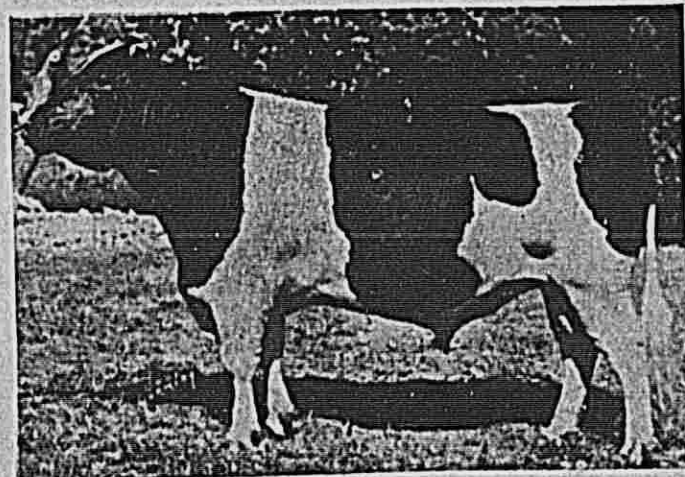

Antioch Holstein Breeder Honored

Ravenscroft Herd's King Bessie Senator Named for "All-American"

E. H. Ravenscroft, owner of the Ravenscroft farm on Highway 173 east of Antioch, and president of Abbott Laboratories, has been honored by the selection of his herd sire, King Bessie Senator, as All-American two-year-old Holstein bull of the year.

Senator was the only Illinois animal named on the "first team" of 15 animals composing the All-American Holstein Show herd of 1939. He was purchased as a yearling at the dispersal sale of the Elmwood Farms at Deerfield, for $3,000, a year ago, and

Special Edition of News To Reach All Rural Voters

County-wide Distribution to Carry Election News to Voters

The Antioch News next week, March 28, will issue a special primary election edition, a copy of which will be mailed to every rural route boxholder in Lake county, and the actual distribution will be sworn to. The purpose of the edition is to give information to voters regarding primary elections and qualifications of candidates for office.

Political awakening of voters during the past few months is expected to bring out on April 9 one of the largest primary votes ever recorded in Lake county. Vote totals in the past are interesting and indicate public interest in the candidates and issues to be decided. In 1932, presidential election year, a vote of 47,673 was recorded in Lake county. Two years later, in the April primary election, only 32,150 voters visited the polls. The banner year was 1936, the year of the great Roosevelt landslide, when nearly 40,000 votes were recorded in Lake county.

But what and who are all these people voting for? What are the duties of the offices for which they cast their votes? What are the qualifications of candidates who seek office?

The Antioch News believes that one of the foremost duties of a newspaper is to encourage intelligent voting, and to aid the voter the News' special primary election edition will contain a resume of primary election machinery, the duties pertinent to each office, and other information for the voter.

Past editions of the election special have been acclaimed with enthusiasm by both voters and candidates for office. The edition has been commended by educators and has been used in schools as a text source giving concise and accurate information in understandable language.

Atty Mason is Lake Co. Product

Highlights in Life and Career of State's Attorney Reviewed

Highlights in the life and public career of Charles E. Mason, who has for two terms served Lake county as state's attorney, were made public this week by sponsors of Mason who wish to see his re-nomination and re-election.

Mason, who admits to 50 years of age, is a "Lake county product." (continued on page 8) as been developed into a premier show animal.

Several other fine animals from Glenwood are included in the 110 head of purebred Holsteins at Ravenscroft farm. All breeding is done artificially, a veterinarian going over the herd twice each month. A record is kept of the production of each cow, and there are now about 25 on advanced register tests. Milking is done by machine.

Chosen from 92

Hawthorn Blue Eye Empress, heifer calf of Hawthorn farms, Libertyville, was named reserve All-American, and three other Hawthorn animals were named for honors.

Champions from Holstein herds of not only the United States, but Canada as well, are considered for the All-American show herd. This is the eighteenth consecutive year that such a herd has been named. Selection of the 15 winners was made by 17 eminent dairy cattle judges of the U. S. and Canada, from among 92 animals nominated—all winners at state, sectional or national dairy shows in the United States or Class A shows in Canada.

CRACKING THE WHIP

Over 1,000 See 5th High School Boxing Tourney

Large Crowds Are Present During Three Nights of Annual Event

Crowds estimated at a total of 1,000 for the three nights attended the fifth annual student boxing tournament held at Antioch Township High school Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Principal J. O. Austin announced today that the tournament was a success financially, while Coach R. H. Childers stressed the excellent training received by the boys participating in this wholesome sport.

The tournament was sponsored by the Athletic association of the school and proceeds will go into the athletic fund.

Plan McHenry Meet

Coach Gerald G. Reed of McHenry High school was an interested spectator at the finals Wednesday evening, and he has tentatively arranged with Coach Childers to stage an interschool boxing meet in McHenry in the very near future. There will be eight weight classes.

Sixty boys took part in the tournament here during the three evenings. Dr. L. J. Zimmerman and Robert Smith acted as referees, and Dr. R. D. Williams was the attending physician. Most of the boys participating had received training in boxing during the past year.

Extreme care was used in the matching—Coach Childers emphasizes—weight, height, age, experience and physical fitness being considered in every match. Officials watched every bout every second to prevent an injury or any harm that might have been inflicted by mis-matching of opponents.

Rotnour Players to Give "Hard Scrabble" March 28

"Hard Scrabble," a story laid in a very small town in southern Ohio, will be presented by the J. B. Rotnour company next Thursday evening in the Crystal theater. Plenty of action and all kinds of comedy are promised by "J. B."

Tonight's play will be the comedy, "A Husband for Sale."

A fair-sized audience was present for last Thursday evening's feature, "The She-Devil," a melodrama.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rentner and nephew, Francis Ream, who has been making his home with them since last September, plan to drive to Bass Lake, Ind., tomorrow to visit Francis' sister, Mrs. Russell Mays, to whom a daughter was born Saturday. They will stay at Bass Lake for only one day, returning immediately to Antioch.

Rescue Truck Fund Over $400, Stearns Reports

Donations for the Antioch Red Cross rescue truck fund went over the $400 mark this week, Fire Chief James Stearns reports.

He states that donations this week included the following:

Added to the total of $367 in cash donations which Chief Stearns states have already been paid in, this makes a present total of $405 toward the purchase of a truck for the rescue squad equipment. Additional donations are coming in steadily, according to Stearns, and may be left with him, or with the First National and State banks of Antioch, which are assisting in the drive.

Man Who Set Up First Electric Plant Dies Here

Death Terminates Illness for J. Reynolds Cribb at Age of 81

During the years that he conducted a vulcanizing shop where boys and girls brought their bicycle tires to be repaired, Jay Reynolds Cribb was known as a friend of the younger generation. His death Saturday night at his home, 1022 Victoria street, at the age of 81 is mourned by many younger folks, as well as by those more nearly of a contemporary age.

Cribb was a lifelong resident of Antioch and set up the first electric plant used here, 33 years ago.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial in Angola cemetery.

Survivors include a son, John Cribb, supervisor of Lake Villa township; two daughters, Mrs. Belle Kellogg, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Deborah Van Patten, Antioch; 13 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren, as well as many other relatives living in this vicinity.

Cribb had been in poor health for about two years.

Was Born Here

He was born in Antioch Dec. 12, 1858, and was the son of the late Mathew and Deborah Cribb, pioneer settlers who came to Antioch from New York state.

For many years he operated a farm near Antioch, coming to live in the village 36 years ago. He worked at the carpenter trade for two years before setting up his electric plant, which he later sold to the Public Service company. He then operated a shoe store for several years, later opening his vulcanizing shop business.

He was for more than 50 years a member of the Odd Fellows order.

Remember This

Everyone in the nation has to pay one way or another for the money our Government officials spend. Some pay taxes directly but everybody pays indirectly for all Government services. The Government has nothing to give to the people except what it gets from the people. This is a good thing to remember if you are a farmer and get a fat AAA check, or if you are a beneficiary of any of the multitudinous money distributing agencies. What you get in the last analysis comes out of your own pocket, as can be easily seen if you stop and figure it out. Too many folks don't think at all, they pocket their checks and regard it as gravy. Yes, it's gravy alright, furnished by you yourself. The whole thing is a racket moving in a vicious circle, for the benefit of the government spenders. They give you money, and then tax it back into their coffers again. And all the while money is getting cheaper and cheaper, and you are getting poorer and poorer, if you only knew it.

Expensive Baloney

One of the eight or ten propaganda "news" stories from various government bureaus which find their way to our spacious waste basket every day urges all radio fans to listen to weekly broadcasts on how to secure old-age and survivors insurance, employment service, unemployment service, old-age assistance, aid for dependent children, aid for the blind, etc., etc., etc. Under the New Deal it isn't enough to spend tax money for these various "aids"; but they have to spend millions of dollars in radio broadcasts to urge the people to come and get it. 'Fraid someone might forget to hold out his hand.

Wishful Fallacies

Those merchants who wishfully believe that laws destroying or hampering their competitors would bring business flocking to them would do well to read a little merchandising history. For that history abundantly proves that competition is among the lesser causes of retail mortality.

According to a survey made by the United States Chamber of Commerce, 37.2 per cent of retail failures are due to lack of capital; 31.4 per cent of incompetence; 4.9 per cent to inexperience; 2.1 per cent to unwise credits; 1.7 per cent to fraud; a little less than 1 per cent to neglect of business; about one-half of one per cent to personal extravagance; 15.6 per cent to such disasters as flood and fire. Only 3.9 per cent—less than one failure in 25—result from competition.

In other words, the intelligently operated, adequately financed business has little to fear from competition. And, irrespective of competition, the slothful, wasteful and inexperienced merchant is almost certain to go to the wall. That is natural economic law, and man-made law can do nothing about it.

New York Highway Mileage
If placed in one continuous line, the mileage of highways in New York state, exclusive of streets in cities and incorporated villages, would stretch more than three and one-third times around the earth at the equator. The total is more than 83,000 miles.

Life—

(Compiled by A. Channel)
"Life is like one of those puzzles that come in a box. It is full of queer pieces which seemingly bear no relation to one another, and yet there is a way of putting it together into a perfect whole."—Myrtle Reed.
"One life; a little gleam of time between two eternities; no second chance for us forever more."—Carlyle.

"Life, like war, is a series of mistakes but he is not the best Christian nor the best general who makes the fewest false steps. Poor mediocrity may secure that, but he is best who wins the most splendid victories by the retrieval of mistakes."—F. W. Robertson.

"There is no cure for birth and death save to enjoy the interval. The dark background which death supplies brings out the tender colors of life in all their purity."—George Santayana.

"Life is hardly respectable if it has no generous task, no duties of affections that constitute a necessity of existence. Every man's task is his life-preserver."—Emerson.

"A useless life is only an early death."—Goethe.

However much one may deplore or lament their lot in life, nothing would make one more satisfied with it than the changing of places for a few days, with his neighbor.

THE SEPULCHER: TRIUMPH OVER DEATH

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 27:57-66.
GOLDEN TEXT—But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that sleep.—1 Corinthians 15:20.

The inspiration and spiritual renewing of Easter day comes to us again. How thankful every Christian should be for this day of remembrance of our Lord's triumph over death. How much we should praise God that the day for us who are His disciples is not one of outward display but of inward revival. May this Easter bring a real quickening to the Church.

In our series of lessons in Matthew we have followed our Lord in His life and ministry on through Gethsemane to Calvary. Today we find loving hands giving themselves in what they thought to be the final act of devotion to their Lord, and we also see the hands of wicked men active in what they thought was a final act of hatred. Then suddenly the Lord Himself breaks through in resurrection power.

I. Love Is Kind (27:57-61).

The women, whose devotion to their Lord never wavered, were joined in the final act of taking the body of Jesus from the cross and burying it by two secret disciples of the Lord who now came out into the open, Joseph of Arimathea, a member of the Sanhedrin (Luke 23:50, 51), and Nicodemus (John 19:39, 40). It was a courageous act on their part and undoubtedly the expression of their great love for Jesus.

The two Marys seemed to have stayed to watch the grave even after Joseph had gone to his home. The death of Jesus may have crushed their hopes, for they apparently did not recall His promise of resurrection, but they still loved Him. After all, is not that the ultimate and essential mark of a disciple, love for our Lord? Faith may waver, hope deferred may make the heart sick with discouragement, but nevertheless we will follow the example of these disciples and never let our love for Him grow cold. In due season such faithfulness finds a glorious reward.

II. Hatred Is Relentless (27:62-66).

The wicked men who had brought about the crucifixion of Jesus were not content to let their hatred of Him die at the grave. They lusted after His life and they had taken that, but even as He lay silent in the grave, the priests and the Pharisees came to Pilate and called Him "that deceiver" (v. 63) and demanded a special guard. They feared that His disciples would perpetrate a fraud, and after stealing the body declare that He was risen. Wicked and deceitful hearts can imagine all sorts of treachery on the part of others.

The hatred of unbelievers toward Christ and toward His followers knows no stopping place. In civilized lands and among cultured people it operates under a cloak of respectability, but it is none the less bitter and relentless in its pursuit of Him and of His Church.

Observe that while the chief priests and Pharisees acted in hatred and unbelief, they unwittingly did the cause of Christ a great service by demanding the guard over the tomb. They made it forever impossible for any charge of fraud to be successfully made against the truth of the resurrection.

III. Christ Is Triumphant (28:1-6).

Victory and praise should be the keynote of Christianity. Why should we be doleful and sad? Our Lord has come back victorious from the grave. We may be glad and sing even in the midst of earth's sorrows and distresses. Let praise be the employ of our lips constantly as we worship Him and work for Him.

The picture that greeted the surprised eyes of the two women as they came to the grave as it began to dawn on the first day of the week was one resplendent with the glory and majesty of God. The earth quaked as the lightning and white angel of the Lord broke through the unbreakable seal of Rome and rolled back the stone which was to have permanently closed the door to the tomb. This was done, not to release Christ—for He had already gone, no grave could hold Him—but that men might see the empty grave and know that He was risen.

To the foes of Christ represented by the keepers, the coming of the angel and the revelation of the power of God brought absolute discomfiture. That is still true. Men will argue with theology, church methods, even Christian profession, until they see the power of God revealed, and then they can only be "as dead men."

To the friends of Christ the angel brought comfort and assurance. Their fears were assuaged by his word of comfort, and then their faith was revived by the assurance that Christ was risen. The resurrection declares that He is the Son of God with power, the Saviour of the world.

These salient facts offer a proof of eight years of successful management and accomplishment to the thoughtful voter, they are proof of "no reason to change." The duties of your State's Attorney are many. He has, for the past two terms, administered fairly and justly to the legal wants of this community. Disregarding race, creed or political affiliation, he has been impartial and unbiased in his duties. Here Are The Duties Of Your State's Attorney

- To prosecute all bona fide complaints of citizens. To cooperate with the County and local law enforcing officers.

- To carefully prepare cases.
- To deal with offenders fairly without regard to race, creed or political affiliation.
- MOST IMPORTANT... to give an offender's case careful consideration from the standpoint of society and community welfare—will probation reform a first offender—what penalty will fit the crime and the offender?

ST. PATRICK'S DAY BIRTHDAY PARTY FETES LAKE TAHOE VISITOR

It was a real St. Patrick's party that was given Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vezens, honoring their niece, Mrs. Louis C. Krueger, who is here for a short visit from her home on Lake Tahoe, Calif., and whose birthday falls on St. Patrick's Day.

The table was beautifully decorated in the green colors appropriate to the day, with a birthday cake, also in green.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Louis Krueger of Lake Tahoe, Calif.; Mrs. Marie Jennings, Chicago; Miss Daisy Jennings, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vezens, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mathay, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hattendorf.

Mrs. Krueger, known to her friends as "Gussie," and Mr. Krueger have been visiting relatives and friends here and in Chicago for the past two weeks, and renewing acquaintanceships made when they were here for a visit two years ago. They plan to leave around the first of April for their return trip, which will be made by motor, by way of Reno and the Grand Canyon.

The Kruegers were greatly interested in visiting the resorts around Antioch, for they have their own place, "Bijou," on Lake Tahoe, where it has a magnificent setting of mountain and lake scenery.

"I've learned to ski—and that's not bad for a lady with white hair," says Mrs. Krueger.

The Kruegers were formerly interested in music. Mr. Krueger as a violinist and Mrs. Krueger in radio work, but they have given it up in favor of resort work. They have their own harbor at "Bijou," with motorboats and log housekeeping cabins.

"The Study of the Life of Abdul-Baha" will be concluded this week at the public meeting held by the group. These meetings are held each Wednesday evening at 8:30 in the Matthisen home on highway "Q" in Bristol township.

HIGHLIGHTS IN THE LIFE OF RICHARD J. LYONS

A Native Son of Illinois

LIKE OTHER SELF-MADE AMERICANS, RICHARD J. LYONS, OF LIBERTYVILLE, CANDIDATE FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR, HAD LITTLE OPPORTUNITY TO PLAY IN HIS YOUTH. HE STARTED WORK AT 11 AND NOT UNTIL LATER YEARS DID HE HAVE MUCH TIME FOR RECREATION.

NOW AT 45, A BUSY PUBLIC FIGURE HE OCCASIONALLY FINDS TIME FOR GOLF--AT WHICH HE UNBUSHINGLY RANKS HIMSELF AS A "DUFFER," BUT NEVERTHELESS PLAYS THE AVERAGE GAME TYPICAL OF OTHER BUSINESS OR PROFESSIONAL MEN.

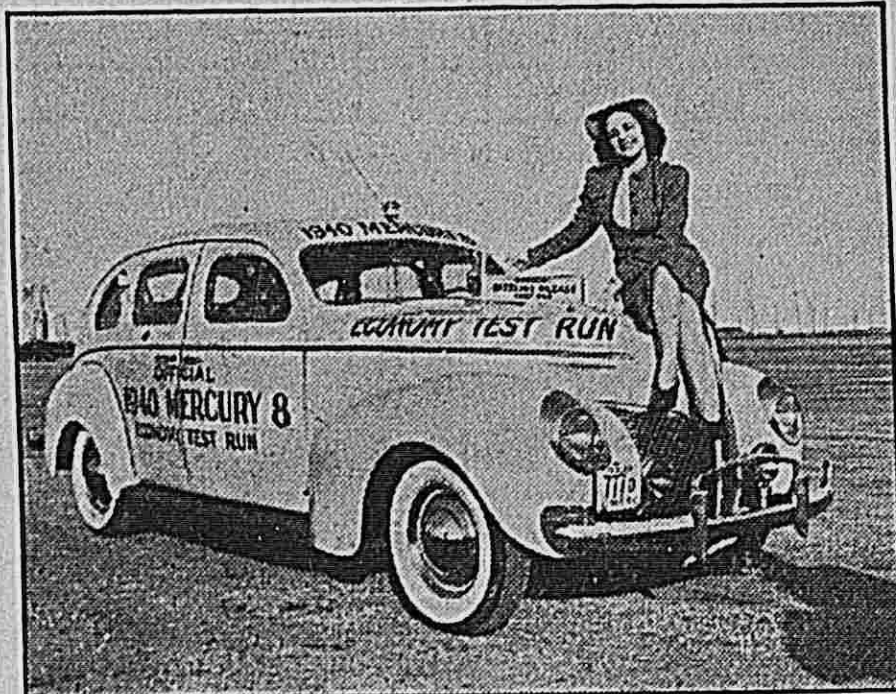

DURING THE TIME HE WAS BUILDING A SOUND CONSTRUCTIVE RECORD AS A MEMBER OF ILLINOIS HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, LYONS ALSO FOUND TIME TO BECOME INTERESTED IN FISHING, WHICH HELPED AFFORD HIM FIRST-HAND INFORMATION ON CONSERVATION PROBLEMS.

ON HIS OWN LACK OF RECREATIONAL OPPORTUNITY AS A BOY HAS MADE HIM A STRONG SUPPORTER OF ADEQUATE PLAYGROUND FACILITIES IN POORER URBAN AREAS AND OF A STATE CONSERVATION PROGRAM ASSURING FISHING AND HUNTING FOR ILLINOIS PEOPLE.

The Observer

Shadows of green—you could hardly even call them shadows—but the first faint forecasts of tiny blades that will merge later into a carpet of green grass, are underlining the lee of the snowbanks. And what with the increasing warmth of the sunshine, the somewhat lessened enthusiasm of the cold winds, and one thing and another we are beginning to be convinced that maybe spring is on its way.

The calendar says so. In fact, now that we look into the matter, it's supposed to start today.

At this rate, next thing we know the farmers will be out planting their fields. To us it has been one of the real miracles of life, transcending such things as skyscrapers and airplanes, how a person can plant seed in the earth and later on, through the chemistry of the sun and rain, helped on by the work of the man who plows and cultivates the ground, harvest food from them.

Another sign of spring—little Charlene Powles coming out of Herman Holbek's store on roller skates. Now if we could only see some small boys shooting marbles.

Speaking of cultivating the earth, the Rev. W. C. Henslee has just seen the realization of a wish he made when he was a youth in Kansas and was doing some plowing one hot day. Said he to a friend, as they stood in the shade at the side of the field, "Some day when I'm a man, I'm going to have a machine that will do the plowing, and I'll fix it so it will run by itself." So Monday when he read on the front page of a Chicago paper how a Palmyra youth, Frank W. Andrews, has fixed his tractor so it will plow without human guidance, in an ever narrowing circle around a stationary post with a guide arm, Rev. Henslee saw his idea of more than 50 years ago finally a reality.

Andrews plows his fields in a spiral, plants them in a spiral. We don't know, though, whether he cultivates them in a spiral or harvests them that way. Sounds dizzy, but it seems the idea works.

This happened back in the good old days when Waukegan was the hub of the matrimonial business and Hank Wallenwein was the champion marry-in' squire of Lake county.

"What! Married?" said the man to his ne'er-do-well drinking friend. "How did you ever get a wife?" "I just sobered up and there she was," was the answer.

And an Antioch wisecracker submits that if most wives understood their husbands there would be a lot more domestic battles than there are at present.

Hard times on the Antioch Weekly News back in 1888 failed to daunt its energetic founder, J. J. Burke, a copy of an issue for Dec. 8 of that year which was brought in this week by Mrs. N. S. Burnette reveals.

The copy for this date (Vol. II, No. 49) was published in a miniature form, eight by twelve inches in size, instead of its customary page size, which was approximately the same as that used now.

An explanation is made by the editor: "The News . . . appears in a miniature form, owing to some changes being made in our city office. . . we have decided upon making one more change, and that is to print the paper at home, in its own office, the only place that a paper can be printed and give satisfaction to its patrons. . . ."

"An experience of over 15 months with Chicago offices convinces us that it is almost impossible to have our work done properly and on time (there) . . . Thanking our friends, and the public in general for all kind favors in the past, we would kindly ask them to be patient for a time while we take off our coat and hustle for the necessary cash to fit up our office with a new outfit which we hope to have in running order soon."

J. J. Burke bestirred himself to such good purpose that the paper which was in its infancy 52 years ago soon became a leading Illinois rural weekly—a position it has held ever since. Incidentally, we always figured people kept their back copies of the Antioch News on hand for quite a while, but we think Mrs. Burnette holds something of a record.

A new definition for alimony has been found. A Lake county bachelor avers that alimony is what a man is required to pay in difference when he trades for a new model.

Another sign of spring—somebody phoning from Chicago—"Are there any open spots in the ice for fishing?" . . . And it seems like only a day or two ago that we were giving up thanks that the highway men around Antioch, in the township and over the line in Kenosha county, had sprinkled gravel along the icy roads, when said gravel stopped us midway in what promised to be a nasty skid into a pretty deep ditch.

A lady automobile driver we know in Antioch thinks it isn't quite right that when a man meets up with a minor traffic mishap it's blamed on "weather conditions," but when the driver is a her and not a him, it's because she's "just another woman driver!"

Night is perpetual at the bottom of the deepest parts of the sea because water, though transparent, rapidly cuts off light. WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

Balkans Draw Russ Attention Following Conquest in Finland; Allies Retreat From Near East

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union

Congress: What Both Houses Are Doing

In house and senate, U. S. legislators busied themselves during mid-March with the following subjects:

POLITICS. Debate and a threatened filibuster delayed a senate vote on amendments to the Hatch "clean politics" act. Aim: To prohibit state employees, who are paid in whole or in part with U. S. funds, from engaging in political activity. No. 1 opponent was Sen. Sherman Minton (D., Ind.) Passed was one amendment limiting political contributions to $5,000.

CENSUS. Okayed 9 to 7 by the senate commerce committee was a resolution to strike personal income questions from the 1940 census. Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins ruled that income questions may be answered in sealed, unsigned letters.

CIVIL LIBERTIES. J. Edgar Hoover's G-men were accused in the senate commerce committee of "disgraceful" using wire-tapping and voice recorders to snoop into peoples affairs. Meanwhile Sen. George Norris (Ind., Neb.) complained about FBI's "disgraceful and indefensible third term degree methods" in arresting Detroiters charged with recruiting soldiers for the Spanish loyalist army.

DEFENSE. Passed by the house was a measure authorizing $654,000,000 in the next two years for 21 warships, 22 auxiliary vessels and 1,011 fighting planes. Meanwhile, the senate weighed a resolution to probe U. S. plane sales abroad.

AGRICULTURE. Certain to pass the senate and very likely to pass the house were boosts which brought the farm appropriation to more than one billion dollars. Major boosts: $212,000,000 for parity payments. But there were growing fears that next year's congress will be left to worry about where the money is coming from. Meanwhile, its economy program shattered, congress heard Franklin Roosevelt suggest once more that new taxes may be needed.

LABOR. Of 17 amendments to the Wagner act suggested by a special house committee, at least one seemed destined to pass: Enlargement of the labor board from three to five members.

EUROPE:

Peace in the North

"Finland stood alone against a huge opponent. We could not win the war alone. The inevitable end would have been the destruction of our country."

Thus spoke Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner as a peace delegation winged its way homeward from Moscow. The war was over and Finland would "soon regain her vitality." Field Marshal Baron Karl Gustav Mannerheim figured Finland had lost 15,000 men to Russia's 200,000, which was proof enough that the vanquished army was far superior, man for man. But the war had left Finland a shambles, its best men dead, some of its best land lost to the invader (see map.) Ahead lay a tough job, but the kind to which generations of Finns have become inured.

Gradually the true story leaked out. First peace overtures had come from Finland two weeks earlier, via Sweden. Major factor had been a Scandinavian defensive alliance which Finland agreed to sign with Sweden and Norway once the war was over. And as the Finns busied themselves moving refugees from ceded areas, their foreign ministry made haste to weld that alliance. "Peace... will not again be broken," promised Vaino Tanner.

(From Paris, Chicago Daily News Editor Ansel Mower reported he knew why Finland never appealed directly for allied aid. Reason: The German minister at Helsinki informed Finland that issuance of such an appeal would bring German troops to assist the Russians.)

was over. And as the Finns busied themselves moving refugees from ceded areas, their foreign ministry made haste to weld that alliance. "Peace... will not again be broken," promised Vaino Tanner.

Reaction in the West

That Russia's victory in Finland was a defeat for France and Britain, no observer could deny. In-

in the news...

GOV. LEON C. PHILLIPS of Oklahoma called national guardsmen to block completion of the $20,000,000 Grand River PWA dam. Reason: He claimed the U. S. owed Oklahoma $850,000 for land, roads and bridges to be inundated by the reservoir. Result: He got a temporary injunction.

JUAN TRIPPE, president of Pan-American Airways, told a Chicago audience that PAA plans daily "local" flights from San Francisco to Hawaii, cruising 2,400 miles in nine hours.

SEN. GERALD P. NYE (R., N. D.), was divorced by his wife at Fargo, N. D. Grounds: Cruelty.

LESTER P. BARLOW, explosives engineer, told a secret senate military affairs committee session about his new explosive so "devastating" that it "utterly destroys everything within miles." Minutes of the session were burned to prevent the formula from reaching alien hands.

DEATH VALLEY SCOTTY asked the U. S. treasury if he would be penalized for digging up the ten $10,000 gold certificates he buried in the mountains back in 1909. (U. S. went off the gold standard in 1934). If not, he promised to try and find them.

PAN AMERICA:

Blues Song

Ever since Europe went to war last autumn, U. S. business men have hoped to capture the profitable South American trade which heretofore belonged mostly to Germany and Britain. Loans and credits were arranged, American solidarity was preached and good neighborliness became the order of the day. More realistic, the U. S. department of commerce sent its experts to dig out the facts.

Six months later the experts reached a conclusion: "Until... definite action is taken on the defaulted obligations of South American countries, until... the U. S. investing public will have confidence in South American political conditions... and until... the fear of expropriation and nationalistic legislation is overcome, a large increase in our exports to and imports from South America cannot be expected..."

Major difficulty was that South American imports from the U. S. far outweigh U. S. imports from the south, a situation which is robbing the little countries of their gold and silver.

AGRICULTURE:

Weather and Crops

In Texas, farmers were planting cotton. Up in the Dakotas they were limbering up for spring seeding. At Washington, the U. S. weather bureau decided the time was ripe for a report and forecast.

Points:
1. Because soil moisture stands at low ebb, spring wheat producing states will yield under-normal supplies this year unless heavy rains or snows fall within the next few weeks.

2. Drouth also plagues the winter wheat belt from Nebraska south into Texas and from Colorado east into the Ohio valley. Although some sections had heavy midwinter precipitation, poor moisture conditions during the autumn germination months will cut even deeper into already small plantings.

3. Below-normal precipitation was also recorded along the Atlantic seaboard, but it was too early to base crop forecasts on it.

4. Out west, where northern California was just draining off flood waters, the bureau reported unusually heavy precipitation during the winter.

CHINA:

Thin Ice

Primary topic of Far Eastern interest right now is the Russo-Finnish peace (See EUROPE), which may turn the Soviet behemoth's attention eastward once more. None could tell whether the Reds would reopen their dormant war against Japan in Outer Mongolia, meanwhile aiding Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, or whether they would work alone.

Either development seemed possible, an uncertainty which made inconsequential the manifesto issued at Shanghai by Japanese Puppet Wang Ching-wei. Said he: A new pro-Japanese government will be established in China almost immediately. Although he regretted that "now is not the time" to reveal his plans for readjusted Sino-Jap relations, Puppet Wang appealed for a renunciation of General Chiang.

At Tokyo, Premier Mitsumasa Yonai issued an abstract and high-sounding statement promising Japanese support of the Wang government. But abstractions from Tokyo and Shanghai only emphasized Japan's helplessness. Since Premier Yonai was vague, and since Puppet Wang could tell China nothing about his new government's plans, it was a safe guess that the entire peace structure was skating on thin ice.

POLITICS:

Third Term in England

Most Britishers are keenly interested in a third term for Franklin Roosevelt, for they feel his foreign policy works in their favor. In mid-March readers of the London Daily Mail smacked their lips over a story by the well-informed diplomatic correspondent, Wilson Broadbent. Said he:

"It is now established beyond any doubt that the report of (Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles) on his tour of European capitals will directly affect Mr. Roosevelt's decision regarding a third term... Should no peace loophole be revealed... and the war develops into a fierce European struggle, then President Roosevelt certainly will run for a third term."

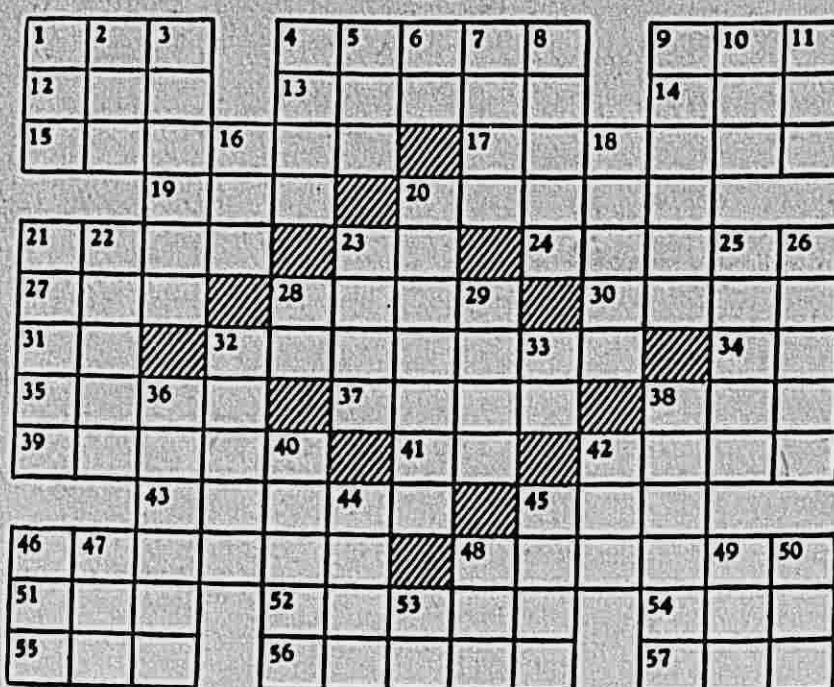

Where Mr. Broadbent got his "beyond doubt" information, Americans in London could not discover. What mystified them still more but suddenly seemed more logical was the very antithesis of this conclusion, namely, that President Roosevelt would be a cinch for re-election if he succeeded in bringing peace to Europe.

Other political news:
1. In New Hampshire, 1940's first primary election placed a full slate of Democratic convention delegates at the disposal of Franklin Roosevelt. Republicans, who drew the biggest vote, elected an unpledged delegation as requested by Sen. H. Styles Bridges, New Hampshire's presidential hopeful.

2. At Kokomo, Ind., Eleanor Roosevelt said she didn't know anything about a third term: "After being the wife of a public official for years, you learn to accept what life gives you."

40 Years Ago
In the Files of the Antioch News
March 15, 1900

(Excerpt from the "Workman's Corner"—a column "devoted to the interests of the workingman")—How imperceptibly radical changes occur in our lives! It was only the other day, when I had occasion to pass by numerous factories on the Waukegan lake shore front, with their hundreds of brilliantly lighted windows, as they were, by electricity, suggesting an air of comfort for the employees in singular contrast to old times when, if we worked nights, it was in a cold shack of a shop dimly lighted by a tallow candle... The preachers do not talk to us as they did fifty years ago, neither do the politicians. In the latter case, while pleading patriotism to the people, they did not resort to the disreputable practice of today. No such talk as "a barrel tapped at both ends," to secure a nomination, as is currently reported as occurring on street corners and other public places... It is said "as a rule only about 15 percent of the voters of Chicago attend the primaries," and those are mostly ward heeled and tax eaters. Verily the ship of state is tending toward the rocks.

a Sunday journal, still damp with the printer's ink, in their hands, in which was exposed an alleged plan on the part of suffragettes to kidnap David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, mobbed the advocates of equal suffrage who attempted to hold a meeting in Hyde park Sunday. The women were pelted with clods of dirt, oranges and other missiles, and when the police were escorting them from the scene the rioters tore off their hats and cloaks and even struck some of them in the face.

Peaceful Settlements

IT IS a truism that no controversy is ever settled permanently until it is settled rightly. There must be an equitable meeting of the opposing factions, that those concerned may not continue to harbor the animosities which caused them originally to disagree. Exercise of such evils as malice, ill-will, hatred, revenge, is inadmissible and indefensible. Jesus rebuked these traits in the disciple who cut off the ear of the high priest's servant. "Put up again thy sword into his place," he said (Matthew 26:52), "for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword."

Had Jesus told his followers merely what not to do, without telling them how to control their actions through scientific right thinking, he would have left them to the mercy of human will-power. They would have remained in ignorance of how best to conduct themselves so as to be free from the shackles of materiality. But he did not stop there. His teachings were always positive, for he understood whence came his marvelous healing power. He wanted them to understand the source of his power—which was as available to them as to him—and, through their understanding of God, to demonstrate the divine power in good deeds.

Right actions follow right thinking. The one Mind, divine Principle, is the only basis upon which unity of thought can be gained; it is the source of all right thoughts. . . . On pages 469 and 470 of the textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Eddy Baker writes: "With one Father, even God, the whole family of man would be brethren; and with one Mind, and that God, or good, the brotherhood of man would consist of Love and Truth, and have unity of Principle and spiritual power which constitute divine Science."

As men are actuated by a desire to be fair in their dealings, they express the "unity of Principle" which makes all men brothers. This is not a mere platitude; such unity can be and is being demonstrated. . . .

In handling error of any sort, we start with the scientifically correct premise that God, Mind, is good, and that the real man, Mind's reflection, is also good. What ever wrong we see in others is but a manifestation of the carnal mind, and our part in the correction must begin with ourselves—we must destroy the wrong image in our own consciousness. This was Jesus' method of destroying error. He saw it as unreal, as no part of man's true selfhood, because he ever held to the truth of being, namely, that the real man is God's reflection.

As we progress in our ability to distinguish between the real and the unreal, our sense of the beauty, utility, and permanence of all that is good is enhanced. This is illustrated by a story of three men who once took a walk in a forest. One was a botanist, one a business man, and one a poet. As they went along, each asked the other what he saw in the forest. The botanist answered, "Interesting specimens," the business man, "Thousands of feet of lumber rolling off the saws," the poet, "Endless inspiration." They all saw the same objects with their physical eyes, yet their reactions were vastly different, and each vision was right and useful in its place.

One is false to himself when he permits evil to handle him, or when he sees evil as something belonging to persons. Evil is a negation, nothing, and he must therefore not see it as something real. To manifest human weaknesses, either in individuals or in groups of individuals, is in itself an evil. The one Mind, which man reflects, knows only good. When we classify all wrongdoing as impersonal error, then we shall be able to destroy it as Jesus destroyed it. This attitude of spiritual thinking will bring about a peaceful settlement in any controversy.—The Christian Science Monitor.

In a modern bedroom colored mirrors, contrasting with pastel wall panels, may be used. One interesting combination is effected by the setting of large pink-tinted mirrors flush into walls formed by apple-green insulating color panels.

MASON . . .

As a boy without a home and parents, he was declared a dependent by the Lake County court and placed in the Glenwood school. Later he was taken from that school by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. White of Round Lake, Ill., placed in their home and sent to grammar school at Hainesville. There he remained until he was married in 1913. He worked on the farm, drove a delivery wagon and later mastered the barber's trade. He has raised two sons; one has been admitted to the practice of law, the other is still attending law school. He held the office of Justice of the Peace in Waukegan for years. He completed his high school and college work by attending the John Marshall Law School in Chicago, where he graduated with honors in 1926. He was Probation Officer under Claire C. Edwards, was president of the Musicians' Union, and has been very active in fraternal and civic organizations. He has been State's attorney since December, 1932, and the policy of his office has been to prosecute all bona fide complaints of citizens; to cooperate with the County and local law enforcing officers; to maintain a constitutional office, and not attempt to usurp the duties and responsibilities of the Police, Sheriff and other law enforcing agents; to carefully prepare his cases (many pleas of guilty); to deal with offenders fairly without regard to race, religion or political affiliation; MOST IMPORTANT—to give an offender's case careful consideration from the standpoint of society and community welfare—will probation reform him?—what penalty will fit the crime and the offender?; not to consider an offender as an opportunity to build an imposing personal record by harsh and unusual punishments; to bring order in the chaotic tax situation.

Since taking office there have been many difficult and trying problems caused by the depression and the backwash of the prohibition era which have been difficult to solve and have thrown on the State's Attorney's office an unusual burden of work and responsibility. The reflection of these problems has been large number of domestic relation, dependency and juvenile delinquency cases to deal with. Lack of employment has created a situation that has brought many of the younger people in difficulty with the law.

An unusual number of poor people felt they had to discuss their problems with the county attorney for lack of funds to hire other counsel. One of the difficult problems the office of the State's Attorney has had to deal with is chaotic condition of taxes caused by the depression. A great deal of time and work, he feels, have resulted in a very marked improvement in the general tax setup and the tax situation. Mr. Mason has organized his office so that the resulting coordination brings efficient service to the citizens of the community. He feels that he has one of the best organized and operating offices in the state. Mr. Mason lives at Gurnee, where he has his home half paid for.
